Field Dispatches Indicate Germans Plan Their Major Stand on Rhine, Forty Miles to the East

ENEMY QUICKLY YIELDS FIRST BORDER OUTPOSTS

BULLETINS

In Germany, Sept. 14—5:38 P. M.—(P)—Doughboys of the U. S. First Army, supported by tanks, broke through the first line of the Siegfried defenses today and drove on deeper into Germany.

London, Sept. 14—(P)—The German radio reported tonight that U. S. Third Army forces had reached Chateau-Salins, about 18 miles east of the Moselle between Metz and Nancy. Chateau-Salins is 24 miles southeast of Metz and about 14 miles northeast of Nancy.

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Sept. 14—(P)—Several more German villages near captured Rotgen fell to the U. S. First Army today, while it drove into the dragon-tooth barriers of the Siegfried Line and undercut the great Nazi communications center of Aachen.

Names of the villages were not disclosed by supreme headquarters. A Paris broad cast said one was Lammersdorf, four miles southeast of Rotgen.

The Germans themselves said the Americans were beating forward in a large scale offensive in the whole arc around Aachen from Maasricht in Holland to the German frontier near Eupen in Belgium.

The U. S. Third Army of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton broke into the open once more around the French city of Nancy in a gain of at least 30 miles to Charmes on the Moselle River. The German communiqué said the Third Army had cut all the way to Lunville, 15 miles farther to the northeast, between Nancy and the Rhine. Nancy was threatened from the rear, as well as frontally.

Some 500 miles behind the front line inside the long besieged port of Brest, U. S. medium and dive bombers bombed the German garrison defenses for 50 minutes, despite poor weather which limited air activity elsewhere, and pilots reported seeing the Americans fighting the Nazis in the submarine pen area west of the city.

A security silence blacked out most specific news from the front. It shrouded news of an earlier incursion five miles deep inside Germany northeast of Trier, perhaps the oldest town in all the Reich. Nor was any announcement from headquarters on Allied progress at two other points where the German boundary had been reached within shelling range of the Siegfried defenses.

It was emphasized, however, that the breakout certainly did not imply any reverses.

On the left American flank, Lt. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First Army invaded the Netherlands at a new spot—the 15-mile wide appendix province of Limburg where a flanking threat to Aachen was poised from the north.

Resistance was surprisingly weak. Field dispatches said this may indicate the Germans plan their major stand on the Rhine—some 40 miles to the east in this sector.

The Americans rolled out of Belgium and into the Reich in long dusty columns. Ahead of them on the path to Berlin, now about 420 airline miles away, was probably many a hard battle, but

Warplanes Raid Nazi Refineries

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, Sept. 14—(P)—Italy-based Allied warplanes teamed with American Eighth Air Force bombers shuttling from Russia in a devastating attack on German communications and industries in south central Europe yesterday and last night.

The 20-point Romanian document, signed in Moscow and made public by the three Allied governments, is considered here to be relatively lenient. The leniency is attributed to the fact that when Romania broke her alliance with Germany Aug. 24 her troops immediately lined up with the Russian forces fighting Germany.

This is regarded as being in line with Allied promises to Nazi satellites.

U. S. Fliers Down 200 Jap Planes

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Sept. 14—(P)—Japan's airforce, caught up with in strength along the approaches to Manila, lost more than 200 planes in one day to American fliers raiding the central Philippines from aircraft carriers—with the battle unfinished and first reports fragmentary.

It is indicated that air operations are continuing against strong enemy opposition. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' Wednesday communiqué said in disclosing that carrier planes were over Cebu, Negros and Panay Islands in the Philippines all day Monday.

The unspecified total or sinkings was added to the 89 small cargo boats and sampans sunk or damaged Friday at Mandanao.

Casualties In U. S. Forces Officially Placed At 389,125

Washington, Sept. 14—(P)—Officially announced casualties among the United States fighting forces have reached a total of 389,125.

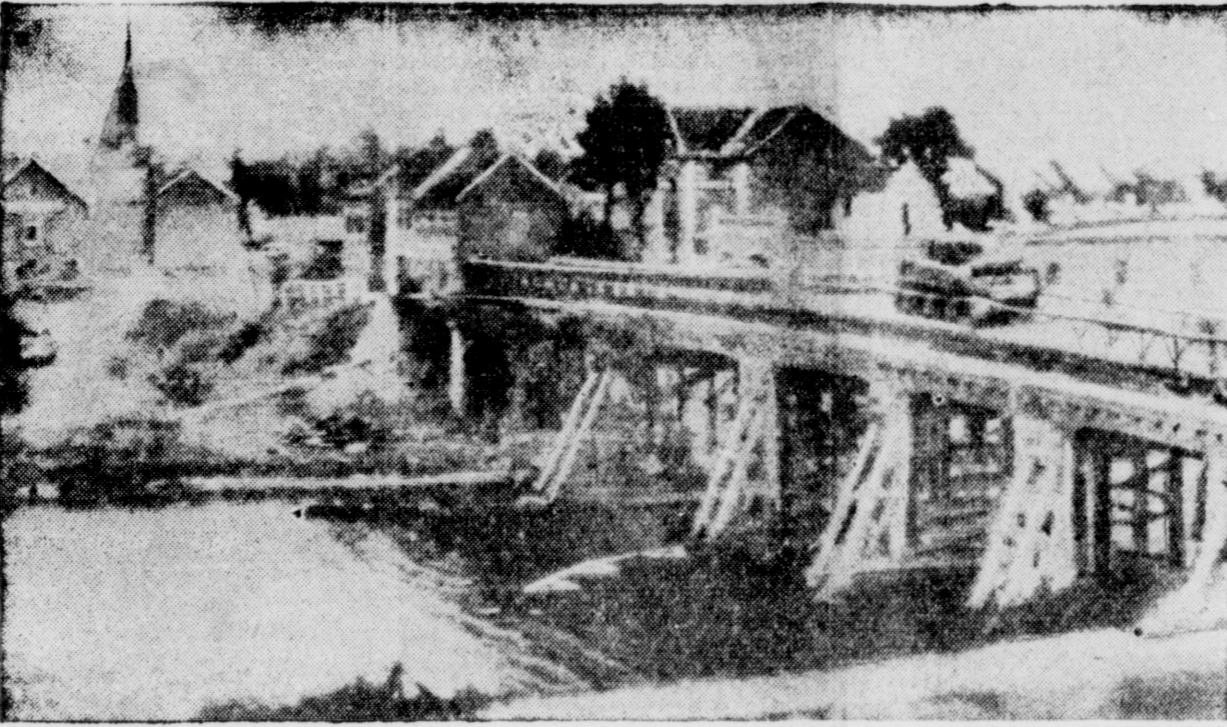

Secretary of War Stimson said today that army casualties for all theatres through August 29 based on reports to next of kin, total 327,618, an increase of 21,821 from the total given a week ago. The latest navy casualty list reports 61,509, an increase of 1,545, unchanged from the previous week.

The army casualties, with comparable figures for a week ago, follow: killed 62,357 and 57,677; wounded 172,402 and 156,933; prisoners 48,81 and 45,218; missing 45,036 and 45,967 (a reduction arising out of transfer to other categories).

Of the navy total, 24,450 were killed, an increase of 524 over the previous week; 23,064 wounded, an increase of 1,170; 9,529 missing, a decrease of 149; 4,466 prisoners, unchanged from the previous week.

FLYER LOADED WITH SOLDIERS IN COLLISION

Two Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Passenger Trains Collide Head-on Near Terre Haute

VETS FROM OVERSEAS

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 14—(AP)—At least 25 persons were killed and about 65 injured early today in the collision of two Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad passenger trains near here. Virtually all of the dead and injured were soldiers.

The trains, one the crack Dixie Flyer, south bound and the other a mail and express train, crashed head-on during a heavy fog.

The engine, tender, two baggage cars and the first two of three pullmans on the Dixie Flyer left the track and piled up along the roadway. All cars of the other train held the track.

The first two pullmans of the fly carried only soldiers.

A major, who declined to give his name, said all of the men were overseas airforce veterans, most of whom wore the purple heart decoration. He said they were on 30-day furloughs, after which they were to have been taken to redistribution centers.

The first pullman, containing 39 soldiers, split open like a melon. Some passengers were pinned in their seats, others were thrown out along the tracks and some were caught beneath other cars. Most of the soldiers and civilians were asleep at the time of the crash.

Through the wreckage and alongside the tracks lay purple heart decorations and air medals. Baggage of the soldiers and civilians was strewn for a hundred yards.

Anniversary Of Old Glory Is Observed

Baltimore, Sept. 14—(P)—Miss Lucy Monroe sang The Star Spangled Banner at down today from Fort McHenry in celebration of the writing of the national anthem 130 years ago during the bombardment of the historic fort.

The program, broadcast (Blu) at 6:30 a. m. included Miss Monroe's reading of a special message sent from Brisbane, Australia by General Douglas MacArthur.

"From the beginning of time men have followed symbols. The cross, the crescent, the flag—all are haloed with sacred blood. The Star Spangled Banner leads us on our way. I hope to raise it once again over Bataan and Corregidor."

This is the third consecutive year Miss Monroe has sung the anthem at dawn on the anniversary of its writing by Francis Scott Key.

French Drive Rapidly Up Marne River

By SID FEDER

Rome, Sept. 14—(P)—French troops smashed up the Marne river today to within 15 miles of Chaumont, headquarters of Gen. John J. Pershing in the first World War. The Allied assault on the Belfort gateway to southwestern France drew nearer with the American entrance into Villersexel and the fall of Pont de Roide to the French.

The break into Villersexel against apparently lessening resistance everywhere along the entire 120-mile front, except in the area of the Swiss frontier, put the Americans less than 20 miles west of Belfort.

The Germans, battling bitterly in an effort to halt the southern spear of the three-pronged attack on the Belfort Gap, last night started a strong counter-attack. For the second day in a row the Germans threw tanks into the counter-thrust.

State Dems Map Program For Campaign

Harrisburg, Sept. 14—(P)—Pennsylvania Democratic leaders were pledged today to a militant campaign to elect President Roosevelt and the party's statewide ticket in what State Chairman David L. Lawrence termed "the most solemn election" since that of Abraham Lincoln.

Told by keynote Governor J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island "the destiny of our country" depends on constitution of the new deal, the state committee yesterday adopted unanimously a platform backing the president's war and peace record.

U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey also told the two-hour session he will ask the senate elections committee to investigate what he said was a fund raising drive for political purposes by the National Industrial Information Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Over-Optimism Is Hampering Output

Pittsburgh, Sept. 14—(P)—The War Manpower Commission today warned that over-optimism about the end of the European war is hampering production of critical war materials.

The WMC said that even after the defeat of Germany there can be no let-up in many types of production here, adding that employing goals extending into 1945 must be met to carry on the war with Japan.

SOVIETS SEEK NAREW BEND BRIDGEHEAD

Russian Forces Sweep Fortress of Lomza; Advance Within 14 Miles of East Prussia

NEAR SLOVAK PATRIOTS

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Sept. 14—(AP)—Scouts from Gen. G. F. Zakharov's Second White Russian army probed today for a bridgehead across the Narew river after sweeping through the shell-cratered Nazi fortress of Lomza and advancing to within 14 miles of the southern border of East Prussia.

Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov's fourth Ukrainian army in a new offensive reached the Czechoslovak border on a 25-mile front below captured Krosno. His troops were within 50 miles of Kosice, the most important town in Hungarian-held Czechoslovakia.

A Reuters dispatch from Moscow today said it was believed there that Cossack cavalry patrols crossed the border into Czechoslovakia.

The advance raised hopes for a quick juncture with Slovak Patriot forces scattered through the Carpathians.

Front dispatches said mauled Nazi armored forces fell back haphazardly to the northern elbow of the Narew river, pushed closely by Russian tanks carrying swarms of tommy-guns.

The Berlin radio acknowledged today that Russian troops had penetrated Praga, eastern suburb of Warsaw.)

Gen. Zakharov's relentless attacks northeast of Warsaw won more than 30 settlements, and increased steadily the threat of outflanking the Polish capital. Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's forces, with the help of Gen. Zygmunt Berling's first Polish army, continued to wage a stubborn fight for the city.

Russian triumphs in mountain warfare, which included the capture of more than 100 settlements by Gen. Petrov's forces, created still another terror for the Hungarians, who already are in desperate straits in Transylvania.

Hungarian and German units lost Ossorhei, 45 miles southeast of the Transylvanian capital of Cluj, and were retreating in confusion from the eastern Carpathian defenses breached by the Russian capture of Campulung in northern Romania.

STIMSON REPORTS ON CLAIRBORNE RIOTING

Washington, Sept. 14—(P)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that there had been a "disturbance" at Camp Claiborne, La., and that "the matter is now in the process of investigation and punishment."

He made this statement in reply to a news conference question regarding a published article which called upon him to say whether several thousand negro troops had mutinied at the camp last month.

Both negro and white troops are stationed at Camp Claiborne, a training center for engineer and transportation outfits.

BULLETINS

London, Sept. 14—(P)—Ernst Thälmann, the German Communist leader, was killed in an Allied air attack on the Buchenwald concentration camp near Weimar on August 28, the German radio asserted tonight.

Rome, Sept. 14—(P)—Col. John H. (Jock) Whitney, of New York, captured by the Germans in southern France August 21, has escaped and returned to the Mediterranean air force.

London, Sept. 14—(P)—The radio of the French Forces of the Interior at Lyon reported today that German S. S. (Elite Guard) troops had fired into a crowd of peace demonstrators in Berlin. The broadcast did not indicate the source of the report and there was no information from other quarters concerning any such demonstration.

Stockholm, Sept. 14—(P)—The three largest hotels in Copenhagen were ordered cleared of civilians today, presumably so high German officers could use them, the Danish press service reported.

Istanbul, Sept. 14—(P)—Reports reaching here today indicated the Germans were evacuating the island of Rhodes, largest in the Dodecanese.

Drilling On Deep Test Well Is Stopped

Work on the deep well which was being drilled on the Tracy farm near Corydon has been stopped. The well was started several weeks ago by Bradford and Buffalo parties and had reached a depth of 3500 feet when it was decided to cease operations. Tests in the Corydon area have not been successful and scores of wells have been sunk in that area in past years without success or with a light show of oil. Other wells outside the Corydon area have been short lived even when some oil was struck.

It is presumed that the rig will be moved to another location. It was a heavy metal outfit, with the derrick much larger, higher and heavier than is ordinarily used in this section.

Rotary outfitts are being used in deep test wells on the Great Northern leases in the Goodwill Hill, Pleasantville and other leases, but results attained have not been made public.

Vets Club To Close Bar On Victory Day

In line with its other patriotic endeavors, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club held a meeting last evening and voted to close its bar on Victory Day, although the club rooms will be open for the convenience of the members. The club today issued the following:

"On August 8th, the Veterans of Foreign Wars management decided to close their bar at the time of Germany's surrender. This has been ratified by the club members. However, the club rooms will be kept open for the accommodation of their members. We hope that this action will meet with the approval of those who seem to be so much concerned."

"We old vets also believe that a few fireworks, especially of the bomb type, at this celebration are in order. A little noise of this nature might help to wake up the town after an earthquake failed to do so."

"AND THE ANGELS SING" AT THE LIBRARY FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Paramount's "And the Angels Sing" is a breezy musical comedy at the Library Theatre Friday and Saturday featuring Dorothy Lamour, Betty Hutton and Fred MacMurray, the film tells the story of four pretty Angel sisters who meet up with conniving band-leader MacMurray.

The two members of the sister quartette beside Lamour and Hutton are Mimi Chandler and Diana Lynn, a particularly potent pair of female charmers. Singing is not the girls' idea of earning a living, but MacMurray changes their minds after borrowing their savings and then doing a disappearing act.

Fred gets only as far as Brooklyn with his band, however, before he is set upon by the irate sisters. Keeping peace in the family thereafter brings some of the screamingly funny incidents at which audiences howl throughout the picture. The laughter resounded again and again as Fred kept his romances with Betty and Dottie going at the same time.

The final chapter clears the air but not before the talents of the Angel quartette are displayed in songs and dance. The Misses Hutton and Lamour warble tunes from the pens of the Burke-Van Heusen song-writing duo in delightful fashion with the quartette vocalizing with some of the sweetest harmony heard in a long time—Also latest News Events.

A reporter on the Cleveland Press interviewed a number of the girls in that age group and didn't find any willing to agree to the minister's pessimistic outlook for them. Maybe the girls are right—though the minister does have some statistics from the last war to back up his claim.

To begin with, soldiers of this war are reported to have a more serious outlook on life than the soldiers of the last war and to have a more mature point of view. If that is actually the case, young men between 21 and 25 who return from over-seas may prefer girls their own ages.

The jitterbug enthusiasm of the 17 and 18-year-olds may leave men matured by battle critically cold. A girl who has been holding down a job during the war instead of wearing bobby socks and swooning over Sinatra may be much more appealing to the returning veterans.

Then, too, the girls of 20 or 25 will be able to help support their marriages, if that is necessary—and it is sure to be in many cases, until young men get a new start in civilian life.

A lot of young men are going to come back home ready to settle down and enjoy home life. They would certainly have a better chance of doing that if they marry girls their own ages than if they marry young kids who will want to go out dancing every night.

With so much obviously in their favor, no wonder the 25-year-olds aren't worrying their heads about competition from the teen-agers, even in the face of being called "the lost generation."

Servicemen May Prefer Mature Girls

A Cleveland minister in a public address recently spoke of unmarried girls between the ages of 21 and 25 as "the lost generation" because he thinks a great many of them will never get a chance to marry since the young men who return from overseas will choose younger girls for wives.

A reporter on the Cleveland Press interviewed a number of the girls in that age group and didn't find any willing to agree to the minister's pessimistic outlook for them. Maybe the girls are right—even though the minister does have some statistics from the last war to back up his claim.

THE BATTLE FOR GERMANY

According to Associated Press dispatches today the battle for Germany is progressing considerably ahead of the D-Day schedule.

For the first time in our history American forces are engaging the Germans on their own "sacred soil." It is a new chapter in a history which has been repeating itself at an accelerated rate, with sons of the doughboys of the first AEF rolling almost unopposed over ground where their fathers fought and died to gain a few yards. Now that history has run past the point where it ended in World War I.

It is well for the world and for Germany that this is happening. It is time that the German people saw and felt the scourge of war which their armies have loosed upon Europe twice in a generation. Perhaps if they had seen and felt it in 1918 this present war would not have come.

But the German people did not see the breakup of their military machine on their very doorstep. Thus the Kaiser's armies were able to straggle home in a semblance of order, at least enough for Hitler to be able to put across his myth that the war had been lost at home, not in the field.

World War I was lost in the field, and three months before the armistice. It was then that the general staff lost heart, went on the defensive, and urged the government to seek peace. Many military historians believe there was considerable fight left in the German army at the end. But its general staff preferred to quit and save the homeland from devastation.

Certainly the German military situation was desperate, and no one can blame the Allies for ending the struggle. The cost in lives had been frightful. Even those who saw that Germany needed a further lesson could not deny a world that was weary and longed for peace.

Today Germany's situation is again perilous. In many ways it is worse than at this time in 1918, when the Germans were fighting on only one front and their allies were still in the war. But Adolf Hitler is not a Ludendorff or a Hindenburg. He knows that he is hated and doomed. And conscience has made him more desperate than cowardly. Though the end may come quickly, it is certain that if Hitler remains in power he will try to drag Germany down with him in a bloody and lingering struggle.

There will be a tragic cost of American and Allied soldiers' lives to be paid in the battle of Germany. But it is a sacrifice that must be made to erase from German minds the poisonous thought that they are invincible and inviolate.

SABOTAGE IN THE HOME

If sabotage or natural disaster should kill 32,500 persons, there would be a great public outcry.

If 1,000,000 persons were stricken by some strange disease, there would be unlimited public interest in finding methods of protection and cure.

Those 32,500 persons were killed during 1943—one-fifth of them were under five years of age—and there was little public outcry. Neither enemy sabotage nor disaster was to blame. They were killed by accidents in the homes of the nation. Home accidents constituted the principal type of accidents fatal to civilians.

And those 1,000,000 persons were not stricken by a strange disease. That many people are injured annually by accidents in farm homes alone.

Home is no place for tragedy. The American Red Cross, pointing out that a nation at war can ill afford such a toll on its manpower, now is stressing home and farm accident prevention. Now more than ever, safety at home is essential. It is the desire of all; to accomplish less is nothing short of sabotage.

The Warren committee in charge of appearances here of the Buffalo unit of American Red Cross Blood Bank is registering donors for the visit scheduled next Monday and Tuesday. If the fine record made in the past by residents of the community is to be maintained many new donors will be needed. Still time to sign up if you are not already on the list.

The bumps have been taken out of Second avenue between Market and Liberty. Now when do we start on the railroad roadbed on Fourth avenue?

CHARLES A. BEARD

One should expect them to describe the making of the Constitution very well; but they are equally good on George Washington, our first great republican. One should expect them to be interested in reform movements; but they are equally understandable and intelligent about our great industrialists. They have many interests and remarkably few prejudices and only one blind spot. They are not prepared to see, as full as some, that we, as a people, can continue to grow secure, strong and rich only as the whole world advances toward political peace and material well-being."

From George Biddle's "Artist at War":

"After dark I went into a peasant's hut. There was a fire of chestnut coals burning against the wall. The hut had a clay floor and no chimney or windows.

There were twenty refugees from Statigliano in the hut; five or six children, women, and old men. One old man was eighty-seven. He was in his dotage. The women told me he had lived in America and could talk English. They said to the old man: 'Talk to him in English. He is an American.' It took the old man a long while to understand. After a while he said: 'Newcastle, Pennsylvania, Boston, Chicago, Denver City.' I talked to him but he kept on repeating: 'Boston, Chicago, Newcastle, Pennsylvania.' The women said to each other: 'The old man talks good English.'

During the first six months of 1944 about 22,000,000 pounds of one-third of the total cargoes carried were strategic raw materials for the U. S. S. R. and the United Kingdom.

SPECIALISTS RESCUE ROBOT BOMB VICTIMS

Men of the moment in London are the workers of the Civil Defense rescue squads. Mostly between 50 and 60 years old, theirs is one of the toughest and most valuable jobs on the home front. They have saved the lives of countless people trapped under debris since the arrival of the flying bombs.

Squads are divided into light and heavy sections. The "heavies" who do the work of excavation when a building is hit are a specialized corps of men who know by 50 tons of shifting debris. Another time, they rescued 30 people in a demolished cafe. One woman injured in a qualified architect. They know the ins and outs of water mains and gas and electricity services. They know how to reach a bomb victim in the quickest way, and, with the aid of mobile cranes that can lift a load of seven tons, they remove surface debris and tunnel toward victims trapped in basements, under stairs and in wall angles.

Their work is dangerous. In a recent bombing, three "heavies" rescued a girl imprisoned in a small cavity after working for two hours, constantly endangered by 50 tons of shifting debris. Another time, they rescued 30 people from a demolished cafe. One woman

SOCIETY NEWSWeather Clears In Time For Record Fall Opening At Metzger-Wright's

Although rain threatened in the late afternoon, and for a time, was thought to spoil the annual Fall Opening of the Metzger-Wright Company, it stopped and the sun burst forth presaging a fine fall evening, for this event.

Each year one wonders how any fashions can ever be so lovely as they are that particular year, and yet, every year they seem to outdo the other, just as has happened this year. One could not seem to select one display above another as the center of interest. Those with their home foremost in their minds chose the second floor and fourth floor for their oh's, and ah's as on these two floors were displayed the home furnishings and housewares. A bedroom decorated with chintz of a huge floral pattern took the eye of the young girl and the breakfast room done in pale green, of the mother and father. A kaleidoscope of color met the eye in the display of Textron bath room curtains, and the softly colored rugs to blend in with them. Wall paper with its correlated drapery fabric made a most pleasing display in that department. On fourth floor the dishes and fine pottery made one think of Christmas gifts to be bought now, for later.

Back on the first floor in the yard goods and domestic department were found the most luscious and deepest pile of blankets and linens for their home, and exciting printed materials to make dresses, coats and suits at home. Everyone wanted to have all these for their own.

When it came to adorning themselves, they found the most perfect dresses, suits, coats, hats, and lingerie on third floor and all the accessories to make them even more perfect, on first floor. Much fur, they found to be the latest fashion note for the fall and winter coat trimming, that more feminine, softer detailing was found in evidence every where. Feathers are going to play a very important part in midday's millinery picture as well as the softest of felt beautifully adorned.

Lingerie and sportswear all have that softer styling with lots of lace being used for lingerie. Even the infants wear is friller and not so tailored as in former years.

When it comes to shoes, the graceful figures of even the Oxford type of shoe, presages a softer styling for this winter. There is no such thing as "just a brown shoe" they have become dresser and brown is important to be worn at all times.

Jewelry of all descriptions from huge jeweled lapel pins to little fur animal pins, from exotic gold or silver to small cameos. Whatever the taste, it will be suited this year and be fashion right always. Handbags in huge sizes as well as in the ordinary sizes were of fabric or of the softest leathers. The array of cosmetics to make one beautiful were so artfully displayed that none could make up their mind which was really the loveliest. The hosiery display made them think that surely Nylon had come back the hose looked so very sheer.

Men, as well as women, were attracted by the new pajamas made by Trexton. Women made a note of them, for husbands' Christmas gift. Both were also very much at home in the book department where they found many new books, and many old friends in books, to greet them.

No opening would be complete without the display windows, this year by Mrs. Mildred Carter, coming in for their attention. These too, always seem lovelier than ever before, and this year they are more so than ever before. One window with a huge spider web across the front with a mannequin and smart suit caught in its web, was especially well done. The other main window facing Liberty street, had an artist sketching a model in a white evening gown, the artist dressed in slacks and shirt. Spotlights in both these windows brought out the models in characteristic poses. Each window on the Second street side above the Second street entrance carried out the theme of Fall with dancing leaves hanging from the ceiling, each model dressed in a fall costume with matching accessories.

A little girl's birthday party in the first window below the entrance, showed the little girls in adorable dresses, all dressed up for the party with paper hats and everything, even to dolls. A mother and daughter "at home", both dressed alike caused much favorable comment, with the home setting from the home furnishings and housewares departments.

The Troubadour Orchestra played soft music to complete the opening, which this year even more than ever was a complete success as was evidenced by the many friends of the Metzger-Wright Company who attended.

American Leaguers Analyze Fate of the St. Louis Cards

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
American League World series stock gained a few points today as the four idle contenders, with nothing else to do but wait for the schedule and sunshine to catch up with them, analyzed the fate of the St. Louis Cardinals who had lost their first season series since 1940 and dropped 11 of their last 15 games.

Pittsburgh became the first club in four years to beat the Cards over a season's play when they swept another doubleheader last night, 7-3 and 10-5, for a 12-10 edge in games. The Red Birds haven't beaten the Pirates in their last 10 meetings, a tie being their best effort.

Frankie Frisch has had the Pirates rolling in high gear at a .763 clip since Aug. 9 and at the 600 mark for the first time as the Cards dipped below .700.

The National League leaders were having pitching trouble with Harry Brecheen failing to go the route in the opener and Max Lanier suffering his fifth successive defeat in the second. Rip Sewell and Xavier Riesco took credit for the Pitt wins despite two Cardinal homers by Johnny Hopp and one each by Ray Sanders and Ken O'Dea. Johnny Barrett and Babe Dahlgren hit for the circuit for the Pirates.

Rainy weather in Philadelphia robbed the American League of its only scheduled acting, pushing back until tonight an owl tilt between the leading Yankees and the Athletics. Once again, idle Detroit, a half game back, had a chance to move in front by .008 if New York should lose.

Movement To Honor Phillips Growing Over Entire State

Warren county sportsmen are vastly interested in the proposal that a plaque be erected by the sportsmen of the state to John M. Phillips who is hailed as the father of the Game Land projects in the state. It was back in 1920 that Mr. Phillips who had become imbued with the idea that the way to have game was to give it a chance to propagate and as one of the earliest of the State Game Commissioners he went to work on the project.

A 600 acre tract in 1920 and it was made a haven for the badly shot out deer herd. It will be recalled that Mr. Phillips was one of a party composed of Dr. John Kalbfus, Woody Kelly and a brother of the late Bois Penrose were on their way to Clarendon to inspect a game refuge site there when the car of Dr. Kalbfus and Woody Kelly was struck by a locomotive at Saybrook and Kalbfus and Kelly killed. Mr. Phillips spent some time in Warren at that time. Later the writers spent several days at Clearfield when the damage suit against the Pennsylvania railroad on account of Kelly's death was heard. There he heard the story of game conservation and the prediction that under the game refuge plan Pennsylvania would become one of the greatest states in the Union for hunters. Mr. Phillips has lived to see this prediction come true.

"Mr. Phillips was one of the State's earliest Game Commissioners. At that time Pennsylvania was a shot-out state and game was as scarce as whiskers on a cigar-store Indian. Being a practical man as well as a man of vision, Mr. Phillips and others realized that if game was to be restored in shootable quantities, it must be brought about by methods that were deemed radical and unheard of. He actually proposed the purchase of suitable woodlands to be used as sanctuaries for restocked animals and small groups of native game so that they could reproduce themselves and, in the years to come, gradually repopulate our forests. Needless to say, it took years of stubborn fighting against opposition that was just as stubborn. Today look at your public hunting grounds, your deer herd—know who won the battle.

"At the junction of Middle Fork and South Fork of the East Branch of the Clarion is a beautiful triangular-shaped flat, sheltered on three sides by many mountainous points of woodlands. Along the base of the triangle flows the cold crystal waters of the East Branch, the 'Paradise' of trout fishermen. Here in the sylvan setting of Game Lands 12 is the spot Doc Kilgus proposed a plaque be erected, commemorating the unselfish and untiring efforts of John M. Phillips in his struggle to make Pennsylvania the hunter's delight it is today.

"Mr. Phillips has also been active in the Boy Scout movement and with this fact in mind, the tentative plans call for the surrounding area to be planted with at least one specimen of every tree and shrub native to the State of Pennsylvania—each one to be so labeled for immediate identification. Here would come the Scouts and boys and girls of similar organizations, amateur botanists and nature lovers to study plant life.

This movement is beginning to gain ground now and most of the better known sportsmen who have been approached have been eager to get going on the plaque, even to tossing in some good hard cash for the purpose. All sportsmen who know Mr. Phillips and are acquainted with the work he has accomplished are unanimous in declaring him the grand old man of common-sense conservation and a great Pennsylvanian."

Pete Gray Gives Boy Life Objective

Memphis, Sept. 14—(AP)—"Hit me a home run," begged three-year-old Nelson Gary, Jr., just before his ball playing hero, one-armed Pete Gray, took the field for Memphis in the Southern Association play-off last night.

"I'll do my best, fellow," promised the lean Pennsylvanian.

And Pete didn't disappoint his little one-armed worshipper from Los Angeles.

He didn't get the homer, but he lashed out five hits—a triple, double and three singles—to lead his mates to a 7 to 6 twelve-inning triumph over Nashville.

Young Gary lost his arm in an accident a year ago. His father, a baseball fan, wanted to give him an objective in life. He told him of the progress of Pete Gray, who also had only a left arm.

Fisher, E. R. Anderson, Bill Cross, Creed Erickson and Bert Bowler.

Pettibones: Sherry Brown, Bill Rice, "Bony" Keller, Ray Elliott, Harley Rue, Lester Blair, Chet Park and Charley Pettibone.

Only one change has been made in the Conewango League regulations this season. Matches will begin at 7:30 o'clock, instead of at eight as has been the rule previously.

BEHIND THE LINES

Two Meadville High School football players are in Spencer Hospital suffering from injuries received in Friday night's encounter with Erie Tech. . . . The Jamestown Falcons have taken three in a row from Lockport in the playoffs, let's hope they take the next one. . . . To those interested in the College football, we have received a schedule of all games to be played this year. . . . We made a trip to Jamestown-Monday night to see the Falcons battle it out with the Lockport Cubs, but to our disappointment, the game was being played in Lockport. . . . The baseball fans who have been hollering about the so-called "punk" opponents ought to take a glance at the National Amateur Baseball Federation Tournament and notice some of the clubs still in the race. Among them is DORMONT, defeated by the Fergers on July 23rd of this summer. . . . Within three weeks a young high school group will start a bowling league at the Arcada Alleys. . . . Roy French landed a 24 and a half pound muskie on Lake Chautauqua Sunday. . . . Sheffield High opens their football season Saturday against Youngsville. They also play Johnsonburg, Ridgway, Smethport, and Kane. . . . Don any of you sportsmen give way to a slip of mind and forget the big affair at Wilder Field on the 24th . . . Jamestown made it four in a row over the Cubs to give them the Cup. Gala celebration in Swedetown last night. . . . Major Hoople predicts the Dragons will take the Franklinites by a 28-0 or more score. . . . It's just two weeks before the Blue and White will run up against some real stuff (football players) and we wonder just what they'll do against those Oilers? . . . ? . . . Maybe someday the high schools will do away with the extra point, which according to the pros, is a letdown. . . . According to Don Finley, the lake was quite rough over the weekend. No fish. . . . We watched an interesting game the other night which is called roque. A group of oldsters have been playing the game for a good many years, showing just what you can do with interest. . . . Reminds us of the old story that we still have to go quite a ways to a good ball diamond? . . . Why not have some night football? Material would be hard to get, BUT, plans could be made now. . . . See you all over the weekend. On Saturday at the football game at Russell Field and on Sunday at Wilder Field.

"It's an after-climax" Marshall said today. "The crowd gets a great thrill out of seeing a running or passing play that results in a score. The place kick try for one point is a let-down."

Yanks Push Past Fortress Towns of Aachen and Trier Paced By Artillery Units

Both the British Second and American First armies have now crossed from Belgium into Holland. Supreme headquarters announced today.

The First army reported further gains in Luxembourg, northeast of the Duchy's capital—a widening of the position from which the German frontier first was crossed northwest of Trier.

The Yanks yesterday won hill positions overlooking Aachen, a city of 160,000 two miles inside the border on the main rail and highway routes between Liege, in Belgium, and the Rhineland industrial stronghold of Cologne.

The Paris radio said today that Allied columns plunging into Germany had passed Lammersdorf, five miles from the border and 12 miles southeast of Aachen, in an advance beyond the Roten area.

There was no confirmation from any other source.

Peace Terms For Bulgaria Are Shaping

(From Page One) It is believed that their postwar existence would be made easier to the extent that they aided the Allied cause. Specifically it is expected to have some effect on Austria, which has become the target of Allied appeals to revolt.

The main provisions of the Romanian armistice:

$300,000,000 worth of reparations is to be paid in oil, timber, machinery, and the like to be turned over to Russia over a six year period.

Agreement that Russia will keep Bessarabia and northern Bucovina which she obtained by a 1940 frontier settlement.

That Romania will return all United Nations property she has taken.

That she will rid herself completely of Fascism and Fascist organizations.

As in the case of Italy, whose armistice agreement had not yet been made public, an Allied control commission (Russian, British, American) is created for Romania with the specific duty of seeing that the armistice terms are lived up to.

Soviet newspapers declared editorially today that the Romanian armistice negotiations, in which Russia, Britain and the United States worked in closest harmony, are good proof that the Allies will settle the peace of Europe in the same spirit of friendly cooperation.

More German Prisoners Will Cut Wood In This Section

Pennsylvania's first civilian public service camp for conscientious objectors, located at Red Bridge, nine miles north of Kane, will be vacated to house Nazi war prisoners by October 31. It was revealed here today.

Although no authoritative information was available concerning movement of war prisoners, Vernon F. Nichols, director of the nearby camp today confirmed reports that the men now housed there would be moved from the camp under orders received from national headquarters of the sponsoring Church of the Brethren at Elgin, Ill.

The camp for conscientious objectors was established at Red Bridge on July 24, 1941, and has housed up to 200 men. At present there are 130 in the camp who will be shipped out to base camps from time to time to do such work.

During the existence of the unit here, men from 33 church denominations have been housed there. Those at the nearby camp have worked in the Allegheny National Forest on timber stand improvement, road maintenance and other forestry work such as planting thousands of trees each spring in the reforestation program.

The war prisoners move into this section is designed to relieve a serious bottleneck in the chemical and paperwood industry, and it is expected that three of four former Civilian Conservation Corps camps will house approximately 600 prisoners who will cut the wood for the numerous industries in this area.

The initial war prisoner labor camp was set up in the Bull Hill CCC camp near Sheffield several weeks ago, and more prisoners are being moved in from time to time. The Red Bridge Camp was at one time the sub-district headquarters for ten CCC camps and is one of the best in the country.

After the CCC youths moved out, the Red Bridge camp housed a unit of World War I veterans, who worked on Allegheny National Forest projects, including construction of the Corn Planter camp for underprivileged children at Dunkle Corners, 12 miles north of Kane.

The conscientious objector labor was on a no-pay basis with the men working 40 hours weekly. The Federal Government provided the housing and tools with the sponsoring church groups paying for clothing and food.
